

CASE STUDY

Entegre Otomasyon is a family owned company established in Istanbul in 1998. They have been providing engineering and consultancy services in the food industry in Turkey and in the surrounding region, focusing mainly on the poultry sector.

Our multi-disciplinary design and communication agency Magnetic, was appointed by them to re-design their brand from scratch and re-launch it with a new name: Entomak. We have been tasked to create new brand which had to be in line with their partners' brands while making them stand out from their competitors and reflecting a high quality and trustworthy service.

BRAND DEVELOPMENT

Logo versions for different uses

We created variations of the Entomak logo which allowed various applications on multiple media.

Colour palette

The selected colours aim to represent the industrial nature of the company while triggering a modern and trustworthy feeling. The colour palette is also aligned with their main partners' so that when displayed together they look coherant.
